

If in doubt, ask an adult that you trust to help you.

Never post anything that could upset anyone else.

Sharing is important, but not everything is meant to be shared.

Always think carefully before you post.

Friends are people that you actually know, not someone you have just met online.

Enjoy the web, but remember to stay in control as you would in the offline world.

